Works Hard, Dances, Gains 3 Lbs. a Week

"I work hard, dance and have gained 3 pounds a week since taking Vinol. My nervousness is almost all gone."—Mrs. F. Lang.

Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptone, iron, etc. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surpised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. The very first bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Tastes delicious.

CATCH LIGHTNING TO BREAK ATOMS

May Present World With Mysterious New Force.

Berlin.—Like Benjamin Franklin, three young German scientists have gone flashing in the clouds to catch lightning and tame it.

They hope to release atomic energy with the help of the terrifically high electrical voltage which they drag down from the thunderstorms in the skies with a huge wire net strung between the peaks of Mount Genoroso in Switzerland.

So far, the only promising efforts to demolish the atom have been made by means of radium on a small scale. But the Germans will attempt demolition of the atom in a wholesale manner, with the aid of 5,000,000 volts of electricity coaxed from the clouds.

This audacious dream stands within a few months of realization, according to the belief of the young scientists, Doctors Lange, Braach and Urban, all under thirty and students at the University of Berlin.

If this be true, the young wizards may present the world with an immeasurably powerful and mysterious force, or ray, which will revolutionize things material.

These modern gods of thunder and lightning have searched out the locality in the Swiss Alps visited most frequently by natural electrical discharges.

Last summer, with the help of all the discoveries of learned scholars since the time of "Poor Richard" and his kite, the Germans found that 2,000,000 volts could be controlled by their method.

Their "lightning tamer" was a fairly simple device, merely an enormous spread of wire mesh provided with bristling points. It was suspended on a cable between peaks with three sets of insulators and a complicated apparatus for measuring the current.

From a tiny, lightning-proof hut, the young wizards watched as the lightning struck the points of the net again and again.

They plan to return to the lonely hut on the rocky cliff to renew their experiments as soon as the snow melts. They are certain that they will be able to control 5,000,000 volts by improving their devices.

Air Mail Saves Bankers Large Sums in Interest

Seattle.—By using the air mail service between the Pacific coast and New York, bankers have been able to save thousands of dollars monthly in interest, it was announced recently. All checks in excess of $500 are sent by air mail and arrive at the Eastern terminus two days after mailing, or three to four days sooner than by fast train service. Return credits are also hurried over the plane so that actual time for collection of large remittances is less than a week. Thus farcurrency shipments have not been trusted to the air mail.

OYSTERS DO GROW ON TROPIC'S TREES

Attached to Roots of Mangroves in Swamps.

Washington.—An aid to the lumberman, to the horticulturist, to the casual visitor whose curiosity is aroused by the strange plants of tropical America and to the botanist has just been published by the Smithsonian institution in the shape of a descriptive account of the flowering plants of the Panama Canal Zone. It is the work of Paul C. Standley of the national herbarium and is the result of a plan made seven years ago in which the Smithsonian, the Department of Agriculture and the Canal Zone authorities joined forces.

Its value to the layman makes this publication a rare type of scientific paper. Since many of the plants of the Canal Zone are common to all Central America and the West Indies, the usefulness of Mr. Standley's work as a handbook is correspondingly increased. Besides a brief description of each plant, the author discusses its history, gives all the vernacular names obtainable so that the plant can be readily identified locally, and lists its uses.

Bark Used for Canoes.

The uses are varied and interesting. Of the bark of the cuburli (senna family) the author says that "removed in a single large piece it is sometimes utilized by the Indians for making canoes, and it is reported that canoes with a capacity of twenty-five men are sometimes fashioned thus. A pale yellow or reddish gum, known in trade as South American copal, exudes from the trunk. This gum often becomes buried in the soil about the roots, to be dug up by collectors sometimes long after the tree is decayed. It is employed in the manufacture of varnish, for medicinal purposes and for incense in churches." From the pulp of the anatto seeds, writes Mr. Standley, is obtained an orange dye, much exported to this country for coloring butter and cheese as well as oils and varnish. The bark of the tree contains a rough fiber from which twine is made, and a gum similar to gum arabic is obtained from the branches.

The early Spanish explorers mistook the fruit of the manchineel for crab apples, according to Mr. Standley, and ate it, in some cases with fatal results. "They immediately gave it a fearful reputation, affirming that a person who rested beneath the tree would become blind or even die. Mention of the atom in a wholesale manner, with the aid of 5,000,000 volts of electricity coaxed from the clouds. This audacious dream stands within a few months of realization, according to the belief of the young scientists, Doctors Lange, Braach and Urban, all under thirty and students at the University of Berlin.

THE COST OF DISCIPLESHIP

LESSON TEXT—Mark 10:17-27; 13: 41-44.

GOLDEN TEXT—Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

PRIMARY TOPIC — Loving Jesus Best of All.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Putting Jesus First.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Supreme Choice.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Peril of Riches.

I. The Rich Young Ruler (10:17-27).

1. His question.

"What shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?" This young man was in earnest. He came running and kneeled to Jesus. This question reveals a void in his heart. He was a young man with a lovable character. "Jesus beholding him, loved him." He was moral, honest, earnest and courageous, but had a defective theology. He thought that eternal life could be obtained by good works. Though he claimed to have kept the law, he was conscious of lacking something. He was willing to do something to fill up that which was lacking, therefore he came to Jesus to make inquiry as to that lack.

2. Jesus' reply (vv. 18, 19).

He knew the young man's heart and put His finger on the weak spot in his life. Jesus reiterated the commandments. The young man averred that he had all his life kept these commandments, but when it came to parting with his possessions in order to help his neighbor he parted with the Lord, going away sorrowful.

3. Lacking one thing and yet lost (vv. 21, 22).

When the Lord pointed out to him that the defect in his life was the love of money, he was unwilling to pay the price. When the time came in his life to choose between eternal life and riches he chose wealth and parted company with Christ.

4. The peril of riches (vv. 23-27).

Jesus said, "How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God." When He discerned the astonishment of the disciples He answered again and said, "How hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God." It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. The difficulty does not lie in the fact that a man possesses riches, for one may possess riches and still be an heir of the kingdom. Wealth is a mighty power. In itself it is good. It will provide bread for the widow and orphans, ammunition for the suffering, and send the gospel of Christ to the ends of the earth. The peril of riches lies in trusting in them. However, the step from possession of riches to trusting in them is a very short one. The tendency of growing wealth is to destroy the noble life of the soul. So long as a man possesses riches he is safe, but as soon as riches possess the man he is in deadly peril.

II. The Widow's Mite (Mark 12: 41-44).

Jesus had spent a strenuous day and was now quietly watching the surging throng. Observe:

1. Jesus sitting over against the treasury (v. 41). The treasury was the place where the worshipers deposited their tithes and offerings. Jesus sat where He could see them drop their money into the chests. He saw the poor casting into the treasury their small coins and He also saw the rich bringing larger coins. It is a solemn truth that Jesus' eye always beholds the gifts of the people. We may be able to conceal them from the people, but we cannot conceal them from His eye.

2. A certain poor widow threw into the treasury two mites (v. 42).

The mite was the smallest copper coin made. The mite was worth about one-eighth of a cent, therefore her offering was one-fourth of a cent in value.

3. Jesus said unto His disciples, "Verily I say unto you that this poor widow hath cast more in than all they which have cast into the treasury" (v. 43). The Lord estimates gifts by the motive of the heart, not by their amount.

4. Gifts are measured by what the giver has left, not by what was given (v. 44). This widow cast into the treasury all that she had, even all of her living. The rich gave of their abundance. Though their gifts were much more than that of the poor widow, yet they had an abundance left.

This woman's influence goes on. Many devoted Christians have followed her example and have given their all.

FOREST VIEW

We are having plenty rain and real winter weather the past week. Hope all the fruit has not be killed.

We have had a sad death in the community since my last letter. Mrs. C. J. Godsey died the 12th of April. She was a good christian woman and her kindnesses will be greatly missed. Her husband has the sympathy of many friends in his trouble.

Mr. Rexford L. Martin, of Pittsburg, Penn., is on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Martin. On his way here, he visited his sister, Mrs. T. H. Layne, and brother, Milton Martin, on the Eastern Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jones and children visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nash, last Sunday.

Mr. C. J. Godsey has moved in the home of W. T. Nash.

Mrs. R. W. Martin is much better, she is now able to get around and attend to her household duties.

Bent Creek

Very little if any of the fruit in this section is left after so many severe frosts. Little gardening has been done, all waiting for the ground to get warmer. Tobacco plants are looking fine. A quantity of fertilizer is being unloaded at Caskie. It seems that farmers are making an extra effort for both corn and tobacco throughout the community.

W. W. Thornhill, rural carrier from this office, has been on the sick list for the several days.

Mrs. Ida T. Morris continues to suffer so much with rheumatism in her shoulder that was dislocated ten weeks ago.

Right much fruit has been killed by frost.

Whale Saved Itself

A whale swept in by the tide went aground at Sudbury, England, slid it self off and swam out to sea again.

EVERGREEN

But for the blooming trees and flowers, we could hardly believe it was Spring, it is so cold.

There seems almost an epidemic of whooping cough around here now,or the scare of it. All that cough haven't whooping cough.

Mrs. W. B. Thomas, who is in Lynchburg for treatment under Dr. Walters, is a little better. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery and hope to see her home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Cawthorn and family were the guest of their home people here this week.

Miss Madian Lee has been called to Roanoke by the illness of her aunt, Mrs. Emma Godsey.

Miss Pauline Evans is visiting friends in Crewe.

Mr. Lacy Martin, who has been very, ill, is improving and we hope to see him out soon.

Mrs. Lillie Inge is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Inge and baby, of Roanoke, were week-end guests of their home people last week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Farrar and children were guests of relatives and friends in Lynchburg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Farrar and and children, of Church Roads, were guests of relatives here this week-end

Our Community League is progressing nicely. At the meeting Friday night some of the school children gave a very interesting debate, Resolved, that there are greater advantages in the city than in the country. The judges decided in favor of the negative side.

STONEWALL

Mr. and Mrs. Brent Stratton and little daughter, Margaret Bruce, of Greensboro and Bob Stratton, of S. C., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stratton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Neighbors, Jr., of Lynchburg, spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Neighbors.

Mr. J. T. Whitten visited relatives in Amherst County last week-end.

Mrs. Laura McDaniels and little daughter, Margaret, of Washington, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Whitten.

Mrs. Laura Isabell, of Lynchburg, is spending some time in the nome of J. A. Stratton.

Abandon Windjammers

In Alaskan Salmon Trade

Anacortes, Wash.—For the first time in the history of the Alaska salmon cannery trade not a sailing vessel will be operated this year by packers in northern waters. In former years such famous ships as the Benjamin F. Packard, Guy C. Goss A. J. Fuller, W. H. Flint, Star of Alaska and Catherine D. were outfitted each spring on Puget sound, and with decks crowded with fishermen and cannery workers set sail for Alaskan harbors.

The windjammer fleet has been abandoned in favor of larger and faster steamships. The estimates at various Pacific coast ports are filled with forests of masts as the old sail ing ships await some cargo offering to start them off toward romantic places.

World's Largest Driftwood Mass at Point Barrow

Point Barrow, Alaska.—Hundreds of Eskimo families have congregated at Shingle point, the mouth of the great McKenzie river, where nature has deposited the world's mightiest mass of driftwood as well as the bones of two wrecked whales. Vast quantities of forest debris have been washed down the Mackenzie river from central Canada and once in the Arctic have been tossed in great heaps on sand pits by waves and ice floes. There is no shortage of fuel at Shingle point and natives are not hampered by the high cost of building material.

Coin Machine Talks

New York.—Drop coins in the slot and get a package of cigarettes with a "thank you." A vending machine that talks is now in operation.

Steal Ambulance

Milwaukee, Wis.—Simply nothing is safe from a really ambitious thief It was proved here when a county ambulance was stolen.

Long Troubled by Constipation
"Black-Draught has been a family medicine with us for fifteen years," says Mr. F. M. Huntley, of Neosho, Mo. "I read about it first in the Ladies Birthday Almanac and what I read there seemed just so convincing I made up my mind to try Black-Draught, as I had been troubled with constipation for a long time.
"I found Black-Draught to be the ideal medicine for this trouble. It gave me quick relief. Frequently I had bad headaches and pains, due to toxic poison. By taking a course of Black-Draught I gave my system a thorough cleansing, and I have had little or no trouble since then.
"Now, if I am becoming constipated, I take several small doses of Black-Draught, and am very soon feeling fine."
Costs only 1 cent a dose. p-128
